

The John Key / Clinton Cartel Political “Kiss of Death”

John Key and Hillary Clinton's pact

Sealed with a kiss

NZ Prime Minister John Key bet on the wrong horse in the US election...and fell on his sword!

“Il bacio della morte” is the sign given by a Mafioso boss marking a member of the crime family for death. The political equivalent for John Key is the recent exposure of his $13.7 million NZ tax dollar “wager” on the Clinton Foundation’s pay-for-play crime syndicate. To make matters worse, CIA whistleblower Harmon Wilfred, as an enemy of the Clintons, believes his wife Carolyn Dare Wilfred has been included as a deliberate target of that now unravelling and unholy alliance.

Wellington, New Zealand, 12 December, 2016 - After eleven years of failed attempts to normalise his status in New Zealand as a stateless person seeking refuge, Harmon is convinced he and his wife’s maltreatment is an “understanding” of the alliance. As a result, Carolyn has become the latest family member to be exiled from her husband, being used as a tethered goat to lure Harmon out of New Zealand and into the hands of a CIA death squad.

Photo Martin Hunter

Harmon and Carolyn Wilfred

Having resided and invested over $5 million in New Zealand businesses since 2001, Carolyn Wilfred made an Investor-plus application for permanent residency in August 2015; committing an additional $10 million plus towards Cabinet MP Steven Joyce’s Economic Development program. Upon her departure for Canada in September 2015 to arrange the funds; without notice, New Zealand Immigration cancelled her Canada visitor visa waiver and barred her return home indefinitely, even for a holiday visit. Today, Carolyn remains exiled in Canada, now coming up to the second Christmas without her husband. However, as a stateless person in New Zealand, Harmon can neither lawfully leave nor be deported; thus, INZ has trapped the 18-year married couple in a cruel and perpetual unjustified separation (“catch 22”).

Now that Hillary Clinton has lost the US election for president, it would appear that the NZ tax payer’s $13.7 million pay-for-play commitment has backfired, forcing PM John Key to resign or face an uncertain future with NZ/US relations.

A 27 November, 2016 Fox News report states that President Elect Trump will ask his newly appointed Ambassadors to pressure governments contributing to the Clinton Foundation to commence their own investigations. Norway and Australia have reportedly already curtailed their relationships with the Foundation. Shouldn’t New Zealand follow suit?

Now that President Elect Donald Trump will be sworn in on 20 January, 2017, and with the 5 December resignation announcement of John Key; the NZ Government would be well advised to reconsider the persecution of the Wilfred’s who publicly backed Trump’s successful election and are continuing to support the Clinton criminal investigations (see open letter to Donald Trump). NZ’s small business sector should also welcome the additional investment offered by Carolyn.

For questions, contact Harmon Wilfred, E-mail: harmon@harmonwilfred.com Phone +64-3-968-9603

Documentary web site: www.luminadiem.com (See home page for active links in this press release)

* This press release is globally distributed after the NZ Cabinet’s deficient response to an urgent request to Hon Steven Joyce that happily married couple, Harmon and Carolyn Dare Wilfred be reunited this Christmas, after an inhumane and torturous fifteen-month separation enforced by Immigration New Zealand